1940 Introduction

GLORIA BACHER

(Tudor-Guntle)

A formal decorative—bush 5½ feet, tremendously vigorous, with dark leathery foliage and stems unrivaled by any dahlia we have ever grown. Huge flowers growing in the field 8 to 9½ inches in diameter, 6½ to 7 inches in depth. Color: clear dahlia purple varying in lighter tones at the rolled edges, glowing rhodamine purple in bright light. Keeping qualities ideal.

In addition to winning the American Home Achievement Medal, it won first in undisseminated varieties at the Indiana State Fair, honorable mention at the A. D. S. show, first and the special award at the Ohio Valley Dahlia Association show.

Root stock limited, $5.00; plants, $2.00.

1940 Introduction

PICKANINNY

(O'Neal-Guntle)

A new orchid flowering of unusual color—a deep velvety oxblood; bush 3 feet, blooms 4½ inches, a vigorous grower and prolific bloomer. This dahlia is enthusiastically admired by all who have seen it in the garden and the showroom.

In addition to two firsts and two special awards in arrangement, it won first in the undisseminated orchid flowering class in the A. D. S. show, the Indianapolis Dahlia Society show, and the Ohio Valley Dahlia Association show.

Clumps, $2.50; roots, $1.00; plants, $ .50.
